MANAGEMENT JUST GOT EASIER

Forklift Fleet Management Information Services

CJK Services provides audited information used by clients to maximize the efficiencies from their forklift operations. CJK considers real world conditions in our approach to cost-per-hour, operating hours, utilization, working environments and repair history.

Periodically, we recommend simple and inexpensive changes that can significantly impact the overall forklift operating expense. These recommendations help your company make informed and intelligent decisions regarding the utilization of your forklifts.

CJK Services has successfully 'bridged the communication gap' between operations and finance. Companies who previously operated overage, uneconomical MHE have benefitted from our unbiased approach in identifying uneconomical MHE and then providing the financial justification for its replacement. We typically provide the justification for replacement using an NPV calculation to provide a discounted cash flow analysis.

Throughout our history, there is one constant: Our clients have found the savings generated from our service far exceeds the fee.

Customized Reporting Services

If your company utilizes forklifts and you are not a CJK client, chances are that you could save significant money by taking a closer look at how your company's forklifts are utilized and maintained. By forming a partnership with CJK, you virtually guarantee that your company will realize significant financial savings compared to your current approach to forklift maintenance. CJK offers customized reporting services and analysis that help focus on the best ways to improve forklift productivity and reduce operating expenses.

CJK analyzes all aspects of your company's forklift usage and identifies the primary contributors to low forklift productivity. CJK also crafts strategies for improving forklift productivity and develops financial reports demonstrating the anticipated net return for implementing CJK's recommendations and strategies.

CJK'S capabilities can also assist you with the implementation of any forklift efficiency improvement program that will enhance your forklift fleet performance.

A student or home-schooling parent seeking a high-quality online curriculum

A corporate entity seeking a custom-designed VR-based online curriculum

I wrote this copy for a company offering a supplier management platform. The company chose to write most of the rest of the site themselves (with mixed results), but I include this page to give a sense of the engaging tone I always strive for, even with mundane, "techy" subjects like this.

The Adaptability Difference

You know you need a solution, and you know what you need... Since 2005, AdaptOne's solutions have delivered not only what our customers need, but what they didn't even realize was possible as well. Not surprisingly (to us), AdaptOne has a 100% customer retention (you read that right). And for many reasons...

> "AdaptOne's solutions are more configurable and well "Adaptable" than most of it's peers".

- ONE Platform: A unified role-based platform creates one shared version of the truth. The result? Enterprise data governance, accountability and real-time insights that drive smart decision-making.

- Process Is King: A process-centric approach mirrors your unique process and workflows for onboarding, validating, managing and measuring your suppliers.

- You Can't Outgrow It: A platform that's endlessly scalable and sustainable, to meet the most ambitious—or circuitous—organizational growth path. Go for it; we'll keep up.

- Our Solution, Your Way: A deeply and rapidly customizable solution (as in, weeks, not months), thanks to our native, cloud-based architecture and technology.

- Plays Well with Others: Easily integrates with other complementary solutions to further strengthen the data insights, yielding a clearer profile of any given supplier.

- Adios, Admin Nightmares: Drowning in a sea of emails and supplier docs? A supplier-facing portal provides a user-friendly easy way for suppliers to both create their own profiles and keep their information and certifications current.

- Turn on a Dime: A platform that easily evolves to every twist, turn and uptick in your business journey, and does it shockingly fast—and affordably.

- What Risk? What you can't see CAN hurt you. With "one-version-of-the-truth" data that's maintained in real time, and accessible to all appropriate stakeholders, watch risk—and sleepless nights—drop.

And all this from an under-the-radar solutions partner that—until now—has been too busy innovating their way to "best-of-breed" to toot their horn. But we're tooting now.
